and Chancery and Circuit Court Judge races.

The general elections are scheduled Tuesday, Dec. 1.

Dispatcher credited in cornering robbery suspects

Hancock County Chief Deputy Nathan Hoda is crediting an alert dispatcher and the aid of Gulfport Police, who cornered robbery suspects a minute after the armed robbery of the Ramada Inn in Diamondhead Thursday.

Hoda said a dispatcher sent out a call and a description of the get-away car shortly after the desk clerk reported the armed robbery at 2:30 a.m.

Gulfport Police stopped the car on Interstate 10 and arrested four Alabama men. They recovered the seized money and two guns. The suspects are being held in the county jail under bonds of $25,000 on a charge of armed robbery. Hoda identified them as David Dewayne Ward, 19, of Birmingham, Jessie Earl Ward, 28, of Bessemer, a suburb of Birmingham, and two 16-year-old juveniles.

Hoda said three of the males went inside the motel while the other waited in the car. He said further investigation shows that the two guns involved in the robbery were stolen from a Birmingham pawn shop, and Birmingham Police are trying to find the female owner of the car used in the robbery.

The two-day event sponsored by NFPA covered an overview of NFPA codes and standards—making progress by past United States Fire

Administrator, Olin Greene. Green served in this position under President Bush, and is now the manager of the NFPA Southern Regional Office. Marty Ahrens, Fire Analysis Specialist of the Fire Analysis and Research Division gave the following analysis of fire in 1997:

Clermont Harbor residents concerned about sewerage costs

BY ED LEPOMA

With sewerage about to come into more homes and businesses in the Clermont Harbor Community, residents have been calling the Hancock Water and Sewer District offices to try to determine what it will cost them to hook up to the system.

The only concrete cost to homeowners is a $35 monthly charge, but residents must bear the cost of running the four-inch sewer line from their homes or businesses to the connecting pipe in front of the property line. The cost of that line can vary, according to how far it must be run.

Consulting Engineer Duke Levy suggests hiring a licensed plumber to do the work, but he said residents can do it if they want to save money.

However, Levy stressed the District's inspectors will have to inspect the job to make sure the connection from their home to the sewer tap is up to standards.

Residents, who now have septic tanks, must disconnect those lines, fill the tank with sand and cap it off.

Magnolia Construction Co. of Baton Rouge recently was awarded the contract to lay the sewerage lines, and work is expected to begin by mid-November.

Plans are to connect at least 317 homes and businesses in Clermont Harbor. Before the work gets underway, Levy recommends those who have not yet contacted the district office, to call during weekdays at 467-6208. The office needs to know where you plan to locate the sewer taps in front of the property and can furnish instructions on how to connect to the sewer line.

Quorum fails

Decision on residents' metal carport must wait

BY MARY G. SEILEY

Two Carroll Avenue neighbors—caught with unauthorized metal carports on their property—will have to wait until Wednesday to plead their cases to the Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission.

Three members of the commission assembled last Wednesday to hear the matter, but that was one short of the necessary quorum for action.

The twin carports were constructed on property at 649 and 701 Carroll, without building permits. Building Inspector Bill Carragee had served both property owners with notice of violation of the city code's setback requirements, prompting the pair to seek retroactive variances.

In one case, property owner Alvin Jaufre had a carport built about one foot from his front yard line. He will need a 24-foot variance from the city.

Carragee also said Jaufre's house probably is built too close to the front yard property line, but that matter isn't under consideration.

In the other case, Leroy Necaie has a carport about two feet from his rear property line, rather than the required setback of 25 feet.

Officials have noted that Necaie's predicament may be less than that of his neighbor. Necaie has attached his carport to the rear of his house.

By detaching it, the setback requirement would be only five feet, not 25 feet. (The city code has different rules for attached and detached structures).

Necaie said he thought his contractor had secured a building permit for the carport. Carragee said Necaie's carport is concreted in, and was built to code, aside from the setback matter.

Commission members said they'll try to gather a quorum Nov. 4 to hear the cases.

In the meantime, Carragee said Friday his department has almost completed their push to have all such carports meet the specifications of the manufacturer's engineer. He said four local carport owners who were served with subpoenas for violation of the city code chose to take down their carports rather than fight the matter in court.

In the future, anyone who wants to install such a structure in the city, will have to meet the engineering requirements, as well as the zoning code's setback requirements, Carragee said.

Aside from the two Carroll Avenue cases, one more setback variance is expected to be sought for an existing carport, said Carragee.

Officials had been concerned over a proliferation of the metal canopy structures around town, because if improperly installed, the structures are apt to rip apart during high winds, possibly becoming dangerous missiles.

SSC's Schaumburg named National Merit Semifinalists

Approximately 15,500 semifinalists in the 44th annual National Merit Scholarship Program were announced. These academically talented high school seniors now have an opportunity to continue in the competition for some 7,600 merit scholarship awards worth more than $28 million.

This year Kris Schaumburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Schaumburg of Waveland, has earned the distinction of National Merit Semifinalist. Schaumburg is currently part of the St. Stanislaus Quiz Bowl team and the Alpha Honor Roll. He plans to study business.

National Merit Corporation (NMSC), which conducts the academic competition, is a privately financed, not-for-profit corporation. Scholarships awarded through the merit program are supported by about 600 independent sponsor organizations and institutions that join NMSC in its efforts to honor scholastically able young men and women to broaden their educational opportunities and to encourage academic excellence at all levels.

About 90 percent, or approximately 14,000 of the semifinalists are expected to meet the high standards required to become finalists. Scholarship winners will be the finalist candidates judged by professionals in admission and selection to have the strongest combination of abilities, academic and extracurricular achievements and personal attributes considered to be important for success in rigorous college studies.

Brother Ronald Hingle, principal, said, "We are very proud of Kris' accomplishment. This distinction is obviously the result of hard work and determination in his academics. We hope other students will follow his lead."

"CUEVAS" QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Friday I received a telephone call from Hancock County Chief Deputy Nathan Hoda reporting a scam artist was at work in the county.

Hoda said he received a call from a resident saying someone had called him and was trying to get his credit card number.

Luckily this person was smart enough to start asking questions. The party hung up on him.

Hoda said all residents should never give their credit card number, checking account number or any personal information to someone who calls them on the telephone.

Hoda also said his department has received information of a Coast resident losing several thousand dollars to a scam called a "pigeon drop" this week.

Residents should always be alert and not provide information to strangers. If they have a question about someone approaching them, they need to call the Sheriff's Office or their respective police department.

Usually in November and December the largest number of scam artists seem to operate along the Coast trying to make a fast buck.

If something sounds like it is too good to be true, 99 percent of the time it is too good to be true.

I guess it is time to get back on my "soap box" again about one-eyed vehicles.

All one has to do is drive about the community and one will see a number of autos and trucks with only one headlight operating.

This time of year we begin to get fog, and it sure does not help the situation when there are one-eyed vehicles on the road.

I guess it is getting close to the time when the State Troopers will be doing some more roadblocks about the county and issuing citations.

Drivers should check the lights on their vehicles, because they can be brand new and broken by a stone thrown from the tires of a vehicle in front of them.

Let us all make it as safe as possible on our highways and roadways.

McGruff visits

McGruff receives a big welcome from the student body of Charles B. Murphy School in Pearlinton on Wednesday. In celebration of Red Ribbon Week, Hancock Multi-Task Force Director Shane Corr said he and task force officers, along with McGruff, have visited or are going to visit every elementary school within the county. Corr added, "The task force feels that education of the youth of our community is as important as the fighting of drugs on the streets." Hancock Sheriff's DUI Deputy Sgt. Ray Billeaud accompanied the task force members to Charles B. Murphy and Gulfview schools this past week. The task force includes Corr, agents, Jeff Hair, Mike Hearty, Tommy Jennings, Laura Lachin Stepro and Lt. Jim Broder. (Echo staff photo by Ellis C. Cuevas)

Auto Accidents: Do You Know Your Legal Responsibilities?

Automobile accidents can happen anywhere, anytime. Whether it's a fender bender or a multi-car pile-up, drivers have certain legal responsibilities when accidents occur. Knowing what to do can assist the police and other officials and protect you in case any legal action occurs.

In an accident involving another driver, contact the police and emergency medical staff immediately if injuries occur. If possible, move the vehicles off the road so as not to obstruct traffic or cause additional accidents. Exchange name, address, and license and car tag numbers with the other driver. Have proof of vehicle registration and insurance to show the other driver and police.

If there are witnesses to the accident, including passengers in either car, be sure to get their names and addresses. If police respond to the scene, get their names and badge numbers. If a camera or video camera is handy, take pictures of the damaged cars, skid marks or other evidence.

In the case of minor accidents, the law does not require the drivers to summon the police to the scene. However, most accidents require the filing of a written report, either by the police or the drivers.

The time frame for filing an accident report varies from state to state. In Mississippi, a written accident report must be filed with the police within 10 days if someone is hurt or the property damage exceeds $250.

Failure to file a report is a misdemeanor and could lead to a suspended driver's license. Providing false information in the report is illegal.

Do not express any opinions concerning fault. Others could use these statements as evidence against you in a lawsuit. Even if you feel you were at least partially at fault, you may be unaware of factors with the other driver or roadway that may have contributed to the accident. Allow the authorities to determine fault.

If you wish to file a lawsuit against the other driver, you will have to hire an attorney. If the other driver sues you, your insurance company will provide the lawyer. If you sue, be sure to keep a record of expenses related to the accident, including medical costs, automobile repairs, and loss of income.

No matter how minor, an automobile accident can be an upsetting event. Carrying the appropriate information in your car and knowing your rights and obligations in an accident can minimize the anxiety and inconvenience of an accident and possibly prevent legal action.

Law You Can Use is a weekly feature offered as a public service of The Mississippi Bar and this newspaper. If you have a specific question on this or another legal subject, please contact a local attorney.

FROM THE GOVERNOR

By Governor Kirk Fordice

The U.S. Constitution sustains our liberty

What guarantees our freedom of religion, speech and assembly -- in spite of the politically correct thought police? What establishes our system of justice? What protects us from unlawful imprisonment? What ordains our republican form of government to "establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity?"

The answer to these questions -- The United States Constitution -- must be universal knowledge, if we are to sustain our unprecedented liberty.

To secure the blessings of liberty, the Founding Fathers ordained and established the Constitution. The 211th anniversary of the Signing of the Constitution provides a historic opportunity for Americans to recognize and appreciate the rights, privileges and responsibilities this unique document affords.

Sept. 2, the National Constitution Center announced that more American teenagers know "The Three Stooges" than the three branches of government; the star of Titanic than the Vice President of the United States; and, the function of "The Club" as a car protection device than the freedoms protected by the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution.

What kind of future does this study predict? How many of us have recently taken the time to read and study the Constitution? Ignorance, apathy and neglect are feeble weapons against power-hungry tyrants and malevolent terrorists.

One responsibility of good citizenship is to educate oneself and one's children about the founding of this nation, the documents that secured our freedom, and the original intent of the Founding Fathers.

In the words of Judge Robert Bork: "Those who made and endorsed our Constitution knew man's nature, and it is to their ideas, rather than to the temptations of utopia, that we must ask that our judges adhere."

Our society is not perfect. No society has ever attained, nor will ever attain, perfection. Yet compared with the rest of the world -- either now or in the historical record -- we can be proud of what we have achieved in providing a good and comfortable life for our citizens.

We should strive for equality of opportunity, not to ensure that everyone has an equal house or drives an equal car.

The Soviets tried a system of "from each according to his abilities, to each according to his needs." The results were neither houses, nor cars, nor food, nor adequate medical care -- only hunger, oppression, gulags and finally chaos.

The Constitution is the cornerstone of our sovereignty. We are the greatest democracy in history and are still running strong on the path established 211 years ago by men who trusted the people, but no one leader, with the fate of the nation.

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

It is curiously evident that a number of things were happening at the same time. First, Lewis had the gumption, the initiative and the drive to stop his car to pick his son up. Second, in spite of the embarrassment to the young buck Arnold in front of his tough peers, Lewis had the diplomatic touch, the tact to make the bitter pill palatable enough.

Third, Lewis was not afraid to stand down the young toughs who were virtually all destined to become just another statistic, first selling drugs, then landing in jail or falling victim to the numbing and game of gunfire.

Staring the toughs down and authoritatively gesturing Arnold to jump into the passenger seat, Lewis displayed the tough live necessary to rescue our youngsters from the deluded, ignorant machismo of the streets.

Lewis and Arnold's mother, Brenda, teamed up with Wayne Reese, his high school coach at Carver, to snatch Arnold away from the predators prowling every street corner. Such a combination is sorely needed by every African-American youth.

Failing to qualify academically for football in his last year at LSU, Arnold bawled unashamedly. But within days he was back at it, doing whatever he had to improve his grades. Told he had to better his English, he bugged every teacher.

This resilience was traceable directly to his mother, his stepfather Lewis and high school coach Wayne Reese. It might be questionable whether the three of them ever said the Serenity Prayer, but they definitely lived it in tackling life.

The imposing result is a six-foot-foot, 239-pound speedy linebacker, a successful student who just happens to be a star on the football team. His a paradigm for parents.

"Psychologists tell us there are two kinds of people: those who believe they have control those who believe they are at over their environment and the whim of forces over which they have no control.

This observation by columnist William Raspberry introduced an article on the pregnancy plague of black teenagers who obviously believe they are controlled by their environment. The point is well taken and the problem is analyzed well.

However, there are more than two kinds of people with regard to control. The third kind is described best by recovering alcoholics who cling to the Serenity Prayer.

"God, give me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, courage to change the things I can, and the wisdom to know the difference."

This third kind understands that we have partial control of our environment, whereas we are partially controlled by it, whether we put things or people into the equation. The most difficult part of wisdom is to discern the difference.

Actions Speak Louder Than Words

My actions speak loud and clear. I have proven to the citizens of Waveland that ideas can become reality. In an effort to promote Coleman Avenue and also a youth oriented event, my idea was to organize a kid's fishing rodeo. That idea became a reality. Last year, I had an idea to organize Waveland's first Christmas parade on Coleman Avenue. That idea soon became a reality also. Now I would like the opportunity to continue to put my ideas into actions for the citizens of Waveland and Ward 1. With your vote and support, as Ward 1 alderman, I will continue to work for you the citizens of Waveland and Ward 1 and together we can put ideas into action. I have an open line to anyone who wishes to address any issue. Please exercise your right to vote. Your vote and support are appreciated.

Some landscape materials can revive after storm damage

By Jamie Vickers
MSU Ag Communications
Landscapes never look the same after a natural disaster, but steps can be taken to minimize the damages, and some relief may be available at tax time.

Damage to trees includes broken and torn limbs, wounds, split branches, exposed roots and fallen trees. The care given to injured trees depends on the extent of the damage, age of the tree and the time needed for the surrounding soil to reach normal moisture levels.

"Homeowners can delay making a decision about damaged trees for several months if these are still intact, living branches on the tree," said Dr. Stephen Dicke, Mississippi State University's Extension Service tree care specialist. "A dead branch hanging in a tree is a real problem that needs to be dealt with immediately."

Removing broken or torn limbs can be dangerous, and it may be necessary to hire a professional. To remove a heavy, large limb, make three cuts to avoid more damage to the bark and wood.

Make the first cut on the underside of the limb about one foot from the trunk. Cut one-third through the limb.

For the second cut, move two to six inches farther out the limb, and cut from the upper side of the limb until the branch is completely separated. The final cut is made almost flush with the trunk which is being pruned.

Do not apply tree paint or dressing to the exposed wood surfaces after limbs have been repaired or removed. These dressings are actually harmful to the trees, Dicke said.

A professional should determine repair efforts for some split branches. A technique called cabling can pull split branches into place. This is not a permanent solution and simply temporarily delays the loss of the tree.

"Removal of trees that are partially uprooted is a judgment call," Dicke said. "If they are going to be removed, it should be done before the heavy winter rains loosen the soil."

Other uprooted trees can be reset, but braces may be required. Some braces need to remain about two years. Cut and smooth irregular root breaks before resetting the tree. Water well after resetting and continue watering during dry periods.

Cover exposed roots to the same level as before the damage, but no higher. A three-inch deep mulch, such as pine straw, retard drying of exposed roots.

Fertilization in the late winter can lead to good root growth, but over fertilizing may cause further damage. Follow the fertilizer instructions carefully.

Some tax benefits are available for homeowners to help cover the costs of tree repair and removal as well as the loss of these valuable trees.

"Homeowner insurance policies usually only pay for the removal of shade trees, so any other loss may be deductible," Dicke said.

The IRS accepts removal costs for trees not worth saving, restoration costs for damaged trees that are salvageable and replacement cost as evidence of loss. Other accepted deductions are clean-up expenses and loss or reduction in fair market value of trees lost or damaged.

"There are restrictions to deducting casualty losses," Dicke said. "An accountant familiar with casualty losses can help, and tree appraisers can determine fair market value of damaged trees. This information is available at the local county Extension offices."

The value of trees are based on several characteristics, such as species, condition, location and placement.

USM snags high-tech equipment to track environmental chemicals

The University of Southern Mississippi will soon be one of only a dozen academic institutions in the United States able to track minute traces of chemicals that can affect marine and aquatic environments.

The National Science Foundation has awarded a $400,000 grant to Alan Shiller, a geochemist in USM's Institute of Marine Sciences, for state-of-the-art analytical equipment that can measure chemicals in the environment in concentrations as low as sub-parts per trillion. The technical term for the instrumentation is high resolution, high performance inductively coupled plasma-mass spectrometer (HR-ICP-MS).

The HR-ICP-MS will allow Shiller, a professor in the Institute's Department of Marine Science at Stennis Space Center, to continue his investigation of dissolved trace elements in river waters. He said that even in extremely low concentrations, some trace elements can be toxic.

Others are nutrients whose availability or lack of availability affects the food chain. In some instances trace elements are also indicators of important environmental processes such as weathering or pollution.

"Dr. Shiller's successful grantsmanship will benefit the entire Gulf region," said Jay Grimes, director of the USM Institute. "Scientists from a variety of scientific disciplines, agencies and universities in the region will now have access to this sophisticated instrumentation. The HR-ICP-MS will also give our students a 'hands-on' advantage as they prepare for careers in analytical chemistry and environmental science."

Other projects on tap for the new equipment are studies of metals in samples from the Louisiana shelf, an area that undergoes seasonal "dead zones" of oxygen depleted waters; lead pollutants in the environment; and environmental colloids.

"Colloids are small particles — less than 40 millionths of an inch — that are present in all waters," Shiller said. "In river water and groundwater, colloids are important for their ability to bind metal ions and help transport them with the water."

USM is contributing an additional $27,400 to acquire the instrument and $161,450 to renovate a laboratory to house the equipment and to find three years of technical support to launch proper operation and maintenance.

Shiller noted that access to the HR-ICP-MS will give USM students in the Institute's academic programs a competitive edge in their pursuit of challenging careers in environmental science.

He said the instrumentation will also be available for use by researchers from USM and other universities and agencies from throughout the Gulf region.

The Institute is USM's provider of marine-related research, education and public service. Institute campuses also include the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs and the J. L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium in Biloxi.

McDonald wins St. Paul Carnival art contest

Tricia McDonald of Pass Christian has been named the winner of the 1999 St. Paul Carnival Association Doubleloon Design Contest.

McDonald is a local artist who moved to Pass Christian two and a half years ago with her husband, John McDonald. She is a graduate of Judson College in Alabama, where she majored in English and art.

This is the first time McDonald has entered the St. Paul Carnival Association or any other doubleloon design contest. She has been involved in the arts for the past 30 years not only as an artist, but also teaching children's classes and attending workshops.

McDonald works in the mediums of watercolors and pastels and drawing. However, her area of expertise is drawing, and this is reflected in the winning design entry.

Her work is available for sale at numerous local stores, including Coast Books in Gulfport, the Inn at the Pass in Pass Christian, and Gifts by the Bay in Bay St. Louis.

McDonald's design was selected based upon its representation of the 1999 Carnival Season theme of "Mississippi Discovered."

In describing her concept for the design, McDonald said, "A new day dawns on the beautiful Mississippi Coast as d'Iberville anchors his French galleon in 1699, claiming this newly discovered land for his king, Louis XIV."

The three stars commemorate the 300 years (1699-1999) of the Tricentennial. The oak tree is a symbol of the area and is significant since it actually does endure near the shoreline.

As the winner of the contest, McDonald will receive a $100 savings bond, a collector's set of the 1999 doubleloons, and a place in the history of St. Paul's Carnival Association.

Purvis Tornados storm Pass Christian Pirates, 27-0

BY B. R. HAWKINS

Pirate turnovers gave momentum to the Purvis Tornados in the first few moments of the second quarter which lead to a 27-0 victory over Pass Christian Friday night.

The Pass Pirates held their own in the first quarter over what was to become an overpowering offense. Pass quarter back Calvin Woods calmly moved his line forward. The Pirates picked up two first downs on their first drive before being forced to punt away from inside Tornados' territory on the 43.

Purvis took the ball over on the 35. Defensive lineman Brad Dewitt and defensive back Jeffery May popped through the line and dropped the Tornados for a loss of four yards. On third and long junior defensive back Alberto Bryant's hit on running back Tisdale stopped the Tornados five yard short of the first down. A delay of game penalty set them back five more yards to their own 34-yard line. On third and 10, Purvis picked up an apparent first down on a quarter-back keeper, only to have it brought back 15-yards on a clipping penalty.

Rashad Bowser stood tall and blocked an attempted pass on third and 15 forcing the Tornados to punt from deep in their own territory.

A long, high punt and an incredible Tornado bounce put the Pirates equally as deep in their own territory. "They are going to need a bulldozer to get them out of there," a fan hollered from the sideline.

Rashad Bowser picked up eight yards on the first play from scrimmage. On second and two, he bulldozed forward for the first down and then some bringing the ball out to the 34-yard line. Woods, still in as quarterback, sent junior wide receiver, Carl Bowser into the middle and a solid wall of defenders. No gain. On second and 10, Woods was caught behind the line of scrimmage. A face mask call saved drive and gave the Pirates a first down near mid-field. Rashad Bowser, with a little 'jiggie move' froze the Tornado defensive end in his tracks and skirted to the outside for a gain of 15 and another first down.

With 3:12 left in the first quarter, senior quarterback Jack Wilson handed off to Rashad Bowser who met the small solid wall as did Carl, and was stopped for a loss. On third and 11, Wilson kept the ball and was dumped for another yard's loss. Dewitt punted and Purvis took over on their own 25-yard line.

Woods, in a defense position, stopped Tisdale on the first play from scrimmage but not before he picked up five. With the ball on the 25, Pirate line backer Eran Landry and lineman Steve Jordan blew through the Tornado line and dropped the quarterback for a three yard loss. On third and eight, Purvis fell one yard shy of a first down as the first quarter ended.

Another huge punt put the Pirates deep in their own end at the 27-yard line. Wilson handed off to Carl Bowser who was thrown for a six yard loss. On second and 16, Wilson's pass attempt was intercepted on the 35 and Purvis ruan the ball into the endzone for a score. The point after failed. With less than a minute gone in the second quarter, Purvis led 6 to 0.

The Pirates took the ball back on the 30-yard line. A fumble on the 28, put play right back into Purvis's hands. On a quick snap and a shot up the middle, Purvis ran the ball into the end zone.

The extra point was wide and with 10:35 left in the half Pass found itself behind 12 to 0.

Head coach Gavin Lott called time out and pulled his team to the sidelines. The Pirates took control offensively and moved the ball 40 yards in 13-plays before stalling on a frustrating series of set-backs just inside the 50-yard line.

Dewitt's punt gave the ball back to the Tornados on the 20. In eight plays, they moved the ball to the Pirates 18-yard line. Senior defensive back Jeffery May read pass all the way and stepped in front of the receiver and intercepted the ball on the one-yard line with 1:06 left in the half.

Wilson and Rashad Bowser banged the ball out away from the endzone to the 8-yard line before the first half ended. Purvis led 12-0.

The Pirates came out knowing they had to play catch-up ball and for most of the quarter were successful in keeping the Tornados offense from gaining any significant ground. However, with :48 seconds left in the in the third quarter, Purvis took the ball first and 10 on the Pirates 48-yard line and lofted a pass into the end zone. Purvis was successful in the two-point conversion and led 20 to 0.

The Pirates, unable to pick up a first down, punted the ball away. The Tornados took over on the 29-yard line with 11:13 left in the game. Pirate Brad Dewitt blasted through the line and stuck the quarterback at the line of scrimmage. On second and 10 with 10:36 left in the game, Purvis slipped the ball through the middle and ran untouched into the end zone for the final touchdown of the night. The PAT was good and the score ended 27 to 0.

"We were hurt again by mistakes," Lott said. "Our guys did a good job defensively. We got behind on the turnovers and, well, we just couldn't catch up."

Pass Christian will play North Forrest High School at home next Friday night. The game will be the Pirates' homecoming celebration.

Hunters win later season for duck

It's final. Mississippi's duck season will open Dec. 12 and close Jan. 31, according to the Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

The long-awaited later duck hunting period was granted to Mississippi and other southern states by the U.S. Congress.

"We certainly want to thank members of our congressional delegation, Senators Lott and Cochran, Congressman Chip Pickering and Gov. Kirk Fordice," said Commission Chairman Howard Miller of Vicksburg.

"I think it's fair to say that Mississippi duck hunters would not have this later season if it had not been for the hard work of these elected officials."

The new hunting period gives state waterfowl hunters 51 days for hunting ducks.

Various duck hunting opening and closing dates were discussed at a meeting of the DWFP's five-member Commission in Jackson Oct. 28.

Of the alternative season dates proposed, the Dec. 12 through Jan. 31 was favored by some 90 percent of those waterfowl hunters responding to the agency's earlier request for input.

Mississippi will again have a statewide Youth Waterfowl Hunting Day this winter. The date is Feb. 6.

This special waterfowl hunting opportunity is open to youths 15 years old and younger. Each youth must be accompanied by an adult 18 years or older.

"This special day is being given to youths in our hope of introducing them to the exciting sport of waterfowl hunting," Miller said.

Well time has gone by faster than had hoped it would; but isn't that always the case.

I have been going door to door visiting with many of the residents of ward #1. I've been talking with them and asking what are the concerns that face the city of Waveland in general and ward #1 in particular. As I already knew, I found these concerns to be focused around the upkeep and maintenance of the drainage ditches and streets along with the general appearance of our city. Basically the quality of the environment the residents should expect and demand. My weekly ads have been addressing these very issues. Quite frankly, as I walked along the streets in ward #1 I felt depressed, because the expressed concerns of the citizens were absolutely true. I'm aware of our recent encounter with hurricane Georges and the impact it had on the appearance of the city, but let's not kid ourselves. If we don't start now the conditions will only worsen and get completely out of hand. We are already behind and any further delays - well I'll let you fill the blanks.

My challenge to the voters of ward #1 is this: when you cast your vote on Tuesday, November 3, vote for the individual in who you believe is best qualified to serve in our best interests. Someone that can make a decision, some decisions are not going to be acceptable to everyone, that is going to start the process in the right direction. I know I possess the experience, knowledge, leadership and motivation to meet the challenges that lay ahead for the future of our beautiful city. The election process empowers the voters to choose the leader they want to represent them in matters of their best interests. When an elected official starts to think individually rather than collectively, misrepresentation will be the rule rather than the exception. Let's meet this challenge as a team consisting of all the residents of ward #1. The team concept begins with the casting of your vote, so please vote and commission your representative to move ahead.

I have enjoyed talking with everyone and want to thank each individual for their consideration on November 3. May God bless us all and the future of our great city.

Rocks topple Tide 35-16

Playoff berth secure

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The St. Stanislaus/Picayune football game carried a lot of irony with it on Friday, Oct. 30 in Picayune.

It was 50 years ago to the night that Picayune defeated SSC and went on to win the state championship in football.

It was Senior Night for the Picayune seniors on the football team, band, and cheerleading squads.

The winner of the game would be the front runner for the playoff spot behind Columbia High School in Division 7 Class 4A. This is a place that not many people thought SSC would be in this late in the season.

For the Rock-a-chaw football players, it was time for some revenge. Last year, the Maroon Tide washed away the Rocks 63-7 'in between the walls' en route to their division championship season.

However, tonight was a night that SSC football was not denied by fate, by irony, or by the Maroon Tide.

The Rocks crushed the Tide 35-16 to advance to the playoffs for the first time since the 1990 season and only the second time in school history.

The Rocks were on offense to start the game but could not move the sticks and had to punt away to Picayune.

The Maroon Tide took over on the Rock 49 yardline.

Josh Carter carried twice for the Tide for gains of 11 and 10 yards to start the series.

Carter continued to pick away at the Rock defense until the stingy 'Graveyard' defense led by Joe Carambat and Michael Dauro held tough on a third and short situation.

Jack Byrd kicked a 23-yard field goal with 4:52 left in the first quarter to give Picayune a 3-0 lead.

The Rocks muffed the ensuing kickoff and started from their own four yard line.

Behind the hard-nosed running of sophomore back Kris Cannon, the Rocks mounted a 15-play, 96-yard drive that ended with a seven-yard plunge by Cannon.

Cannon gained 17 yards on three successive carries before Rock signal called Jason Santiago hit Stephen Peterman an eight-yard gain.

Cannon went back to work gaining four, 12, seven, and four yards on successive carries.

Santiago went back to the airwaves and found Adam Knight for a diving nine yard catch for a first down at the Maroon Tide 14-yard line.

Cannon carried twice for seven yards each with the latter being the touchdown. Taylor LaFontaine kicked the first of his five PATs to give the Rocks the lead 7-3 with 9:13 left in the first half.

Tom Brennan and Hunter Dawkins led the charge on defense holding Carter and the Tide to three straight gains of only three yards.

Dawkins and Brennan burst through the line to hold the Maroon Tide to no gain on the fourth and short situation.

With the Rocks back on offense, Santiago went for the kill hitting Peterman for a 29-yard gain down to the Tide six yard line.

Cannon powered his way in from six yards out on the next play for the score with 6:27 left in the half. LaFontaine kicked the PAT and the score 14-3.

The Rocks held tough on defense forcing the Tide to punt away after three incomplete passes.

The Rock offense went back to work. Santiago found Steven Knight for a 12-yard gain and then connected with Jamie Cuevas for another 13 yards.

Cannon carried three straight times for gains of three, eight, and 14 yards down to the Tide one yard line.

Brennan lined up at fullback and took the handoff for a one-yard score with 1:21 left in the first half. LaFontaine made good on the PAT and the score was 21-3.

Picayune decided to test their luck with the pass on their next possession. Cole Raiford found Jason Pittmann for a 17-yard gain and a first down.

Next, Raiford hooked up with Demetrius Goff on two catches for four and 16 yards, respectively.

Byrd came in to kick a 37-yard field goal that was good as time expired in the first half. The kick made the score 21-6 at the intermission.

The Tide came out in the second half on offense first.

The Rock defense held tight forcing the Tide to punt away to SSC.

The Rocks went through the same motions with their first possession of the second half. On the Tide's next possession, Raiford found Thomas Rancier for a 34-yard gain into Rock territory.

The Tide inched a little closer on the next three downs but decided to trust the leg of Byrd from 41 yards out. Byrd's kick was good at 6:49 of the third quarter making the score 21-9.

The Rock offense stalled on their next possession and were forced to punt away to the Tide.

Pittmann broke loose for Picayune and gained 26 yards on the ground and a Tide first down.

He carried again for another 23 yards before being brought down deep inside Rock territory.

Three plays later, Pittmann rushed in for the score from one yard out. Byrd's PAT was good making the score 21-16 with 11:57 left to play in the game.

Santiago went back to work airwaves finding Cuevas for an 18-yard gain and a Rock first down.

Roger Ridgeway moved to tailback and carried twice for 12 yards and a first down.

The Rocks were forced into a punting situation after minimal gains. Ridgeway lined up deep for a punt and the ball was snapped to Steven Knight who found a seam for 22 yards and Rock first down at the Tide 27-yardline.

Cannon carried four straight times for gains of three, two, six, and three yards down to the three yard line.

Brennan lined up in the backfield and took the handoff into the endzone from three yards out with 5:00 left to play in the game.

LaFontaine's PAT was good making the score 28-16.

The Tide now desperate for some points went to a passing attack.

Raiford found Rancier for a 15-yard gain and a first down. Next, he connected with Goff for 18 yards and a first down.

Carter busted loose for an 18-yard gain on the ground, followed by another nine yard catch by Goff down to the Rock nine-yard line.

It looked as though the Tide would score again to make the game a little more interesting for the Rocks. However, Ridgeway had another story book ending to add this week. He intercepted Raiford's pass at the Rock nine-yardline and took it the other way 91 yards for a touchdown.

With 2:05 left to play in the game, LaFontaine connected lievable feeling to go from 1-10 last year to where we are now."

Cannon ended the game with 24 carries for 111 yards and two scores on offense. Dauro ended the game with 11 tackles on defense.

With the win, the Rocks improve to 6-4 overall and 5-1 in the division. The Rocks have secured a playoff berth and the first winning season since 1990.

SSC will entertain their cross-town rival Bay High 'between the walls' on Friday in the regular season finale. Kickoff is slated for 7:30 pm.

For the PAT making the score 35-6. The interception return by Ridgeway was the third this season for the Rock senior linebacker.

Still trying to cause some damage, the Tide went back to the air. Raiford connected with Goff for gains of 16, 20, and seven yards down to the Rock 12-yardline.

Raiford threw an incomplete pass at the sideline for Goff to end the Tide drive and turned the ball over to the Rocks to run the clock out.

Calvin Wilbert ran twice for the Rocks to let the clock wind down on the Rocks' best offensive game of the season.

SSC head coach Dave Kenson commented, "Our offense finally put it together tonight. We were able to throw the ball, run it, and move the line of scrimmage."

"The fake punt came at a time when we needed a spark and the defense played their usual great game."

"We put our drives together and Jason Santiago threw the ball well tonight. Jamie Cuevas and Stephen Peterman made some great catches in traffic. Kris Cannon ran hard all night which opened up the pass for us."

Michael Dauro, senior linebacker summed up the road to the playoff berth, "Early in the season, we want to establish a strong work ethic to leave as a standard for future SSC football teams. We believe that we have achieved that goal. We believe and achieve. It is an unbelievable feeling to go from 1-10 last year to where we are now."

Bay High Tigers stop Hancock Hawks in second half thriller

BY MURICE SINGLETON

The Bay High Tigers stopped cross-county rival Hancock High School in a second half thriller of a football game at J.D. McCullough Stadium on Friday night. The Tigers claimed five Hawks' turnovers in their 19-13 win.

The Tigers controlled the line throughout the game, utilizing the running talents of Tony Benton and Rendell Haynes. The two combined for an unofficial 259 rushing yards, and each of them ran for a touchdown. "That was the difference in the game tonight," said Tigers Coach David Baughman of his team's ability to control the line of scrimmage and kept the football out of their hands.

By controlling the line of scrimmage and the clock, the Tigers managed to keep the ball out of the hands of the Hawks very talented halfback Darryel Williams. Williams finished the night with an unofficial 180 all-purpose yards on the night, including a 93-yard kickoff return for a score with about two minutes left in the game.

But the Tigers defense managed to contain Williams inside the corners at the line of scrimmage, allowing him less than seventy rushing yards.

"Defensively, we did a good job of keeping them off the corners," said Baughman. "We knew we had to stop Williams. We did a good job of containing him."

While the Tigers defense did a good job of stopping the Hawks offense, the Tigers offense successfully moved the ball down field, steadily taking time off the clock and putting up enough points to secure the win.

The Tigers first score came early in the second quarter on a Rendell Haynes 52-yard scat along the home team sideline. Steven Boudro's successful PAT made it 7-0, and the score held up at halftime.

The touchdown followed a Benton interception of a Josh Whitfield pass in the end zone.

The Tigers second score came late in the third quarter. On third and goal from the Hawks 16-yard line, Benton rolled left and hit Brent Haynes on stride with a line drive spiral in the corner of the end zone. The Tigers led 13-0 with just under two minutes remaining in the third quarter.

Hancock put up their first points on the night at the 5:56 mark in the fourth quarter.

Whitfield ran right for eight yards on a quarterback keeper for the score. Les Sackett was successful with the five-yard longer point after attempt because of an equipment violation penalty.

The Hawks appeared to be in the position of spoiler on the ensuing series as they held the Tigers offense to a single first down, forcing Boudro to punt for the third time on the night. On the first play from scrimmage, Tigers ninth-grade cornerback Jason McKay picked off Whitfield's pass across the middle, giving the Tigers a first down at the Hawks' 45-yard line.

On second down with 10 yards to go for a first Benton faked a reverse and ran right for thirty-five yards. The Tigers had a first and ten with 2:05 remaining in the game. An encroachment penalty moved the ball to the five. Benton carried the five yards for the score, and the Tigers led 19-7 with 2:02 remaining in the game following the failed point after attempt.

An off sides penalty forced the Hawks to rekick the ensuing kickoff, and this setup the biggest treat of the night for the spectators. Williams fielded the kickoff at his own seven-yard line, bit into the middle and then ran the left side of the field for a 93-yard touchdown, making the score 19-13 after the point after kick missed left.

Tony Davis fielded the Hawks attempt of an onside kick, and the Tigers had a first and 10 with 1:45 remaining in the game. The Tigers consumed clock on four snaps, leaving the Hawks 11 ticks on the clock before the Tigers snapped to punt.

Williams return consumed nine seconds, leaving the Hawks two seconds for one play.

Whitfield again went down field with a long pass, and again the freshman cornerback McKay intercepted, his second on the night, this one securing the win for the Tigers.

"This is the biggest win for our program," said Baughman. "Without a doubt, it's a big win for our kids. For us to be 4-6, with our injury situation! Our kids really responded. I'm very satisfied with the way we played."

"We had a really good week of practice and preparation. My coaching staff did an excellent job getting ready for this game."

The Tigers play cross-town rival St. Stanislaus next week.

in the Late Model division this season, losing only a handful of racers the entire season, but failed to make the starting lineup.

Hankins, coming off last week's win in the first annual Brett Lacoste memorial race, was unable to take the track for the feature race due to fuel pressure problems.

Sun Coast youngest champion, Jason Beauchamp, capped off a winning season with a clean sweep in the Rookie Class, winning both heat and feature races, something he has done on several occasions this season.

rounding out the top five. Luther Fletcher was also a heat race winner.

Randy Deschamp and Rodney Bruce headed the feature starting field of Pro Stocks as the green flag flew. Bruce, another frequent winner, lead the first lap and was never headed as he made his way to the finish line for the win.

Deschamp and Ronnie Roberts tangled in turn two ending both their hopes for a win. Mitchell Williams had his hands full holding off Mike Ladner for the second spot although he was able to put pressure on Bruce for the lead.

Williams and Bruce gave fans an exciting finish with Bruce holding on for the win. Ladner finished third over Owen Kosbab and Jeremy Broadus. Steve Pate won the earlier heat race.

Chuckie Smith was another flag-to-flag winner in the IMCA class, adding the championship win to his already won points championship for the season. Smith was followed by Chris Moran, Ben Stephens, and Ron Tubbs, all former winners during the '98 season. Tubbs was also the heat race winner.

It was a disappointing night for track record holder Rickey Hankins. Hankins has definitely been the dominant force

Know your goals when seeking a broker

Developing a successful, long-term relationship with a broker means finding someone you can trust and feel comfortable with. But before you can feel comfortable with someone else, you first must know yourself. Here are a few questions to think about before you look for an investment professional:

Where do you want to be 10, 15 or 20 years from now? This helps you focus on long-term goals rather than short-term results. For example, if your long-term investment goal is a comfortable retirement, make that come alive by picturing yourself in your ideal retirement setting.

What kind of income will you need to enjoy this dream? Now you have a tangible goal on which to put a price tag. Where are you today? This is a starting point. Inventory your assets. Properly invested, will they grow enough to pay for your dream? Reasonably project what the value of your current assets will be when you plan to use them. If that comes up short, determine what will be required to meet those future needs.

What kind of risks are you prepared to take? Don't answer too quickly. Many people confuse risk with profit. They think you don't make money if you don't take a few chances.

One way to view risk objectively is to ask yourself what has been your most successful investment over the years. What has been your worst? Consider these two, and evaluate the risks of each.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Be honest. Don't consider a hot day at the casino or a few bucks made on a high-flying stock a successful investment. Look at those investments, no matter how dull, that have made you financially stronger.

Answering the risk question also helps identify your view of success. One person may consider a conservative 4 percent to 5 percent annual return successful as long as the investment remains stable. Another aims for a more ambitious 10 percent to 12 percent, knowing that principal fluctuates over time. Fairly identify your expectations and your tolerance for risk.

What do you expect of your financial professional? Some investors want to pay their broker a fee; others prefer a commission. How you choose to pay your broker is unimportant as long as he or she does the job to your satisfaction.

Your investment representative's most important responsibility is seeing that your objectives are met. That's why it's so vital for you to have those objectives well thought out before you begin working with a financial professional. Both you and your broker should understand and agree on investing fundamentals such as objectives, risk, time, types of investments and more. A good professional will always honor these objectives.

You also should expect a regular accounting of your investment progress. This includes detailed statements of transactions and necessary tax-reporting documentation.

You should be able to trust your financial professional as you would your minister, physician or attorney. Establishing your goals and expectations, and communicating them clearly, will make it easier for you to trust your broker to carry them out.

Cellular South reduces rates

Cellular South announced it has reduced long distance rates by 33 percent per month for its package of telecommunications services, known as Telepak Family, that includes cellular, long distance and home phone service.

Telepak Family's rate for cellular long distance from the callers primary coverage area and all home phone long distance is now 10 cents a minute.

According to Suzy Hays, director of marketing, "Cellular South's long distance rate features no hidden charges, unlike the flat monthly fees of up to $5 per month that some long distance companies pass along to customers in order to provide a low rate per long distance call."

In 1997, Cellular South became the first company in Mississippi and one of the first in the United States to bundle cellular, long distance and residential telephone service, all on a single bill.

Now, just over a year and a half later, Cellular South has offered home telephone service to over half of Mississippi through its first-to-market package of telecommunications services.

During this time period, more than 14,000 Mississippi households have subscribed to this new service. Internal research shows that customer satisfaction with Telepak Family is above 90 percent.

Telepak Family saves consumers money by bundling cellular, long distance and residential service all in one package. Benefits include:

- second cellular phone number for $5 per month
- cellular long distance and residential long distance of 10 cents a minute
- local cellular air time of 15 cents a minute
- one simple bill
- long distance calling card
- 90-day switch back guarantee

Hu Meena, president of Cellular South, said, "As technology continues to evolve, Cellular South is committed to offering competitive rates, the very best service and leading-edge technology to Mississippians. Now with our long distance rate reduction, the Telepak Family package of services just keeps getting better and better."

Stennis engineers receive patents

Three engineers at the John C. Stennis Space Center have received patents for new innovations they developed at the facility.

"Patents are very, very difficult to get," said Roy Estess, director of Stennis Space Center, who presented the NASA Patent Issuance Awards to the recipients. "We are here today to recognize those team members who have done this innovative work."

Receiving patent awards at the ceremony held Oct. 22 were NASA's Bud Nail of Picayune; Resource 21's Tom Koger from Bay St. Louis; and Lockheed Martin Stennis Operations' Harvey Smith of Diamondhead.

Nail, Koger and former SSC employees Patrick Diaz and Vivien Cambridge designed a predictive sensor technology so that a sensor's endpoint reading could be accurately predicted prior to reaching that point. It is currently used by NASA to speed up the hydrogen detection system sensors.

"Licensing for this innovation is ongoing," said Sharp. "We anticipate many additional uses for this particular technology in the industrial community."

Smith, along with former NASA employee Heidi Barnes, was granted a patent for a hydrogen fire imager. Since hydrogen burns so cleanly that its flame is almost invisible, Smith and Barnes recognized the need for a sensor system that would display a visible image of a hydrogen fire on top of an image of the surrounding area. The resulting image gives the user a better understanding of the exact location of the fire.

"The hydrogen fire imager has actually been commercialized and manufactured," said Kirk Sharp, NASA's technology transfer officer at Stennis. "Is has been sold to different firefighting organizations throughout the United States in support of all manner of firefighting areas, such as auto racing, propane facilities and even our propulsion test facilities here at Stennis."

The NASA Technology Transfer Office at Stennis Space Center hosted the awards ceremony. The goal of the Technology Transfer Office is to assist the transfer and commercialization of NASA technologies into the private sector to create jobs, improve productivity, and increase United States competitiveness.

For information about NASA's Technology Transfer Program, call (228) 688-1929 or visit their web page at <http://technology.ssc.nasa.gov>.

World Series Gala

Pass sailor takes advantage of unique opportunity

By J. L. Chirrick

This has been a year of sweeping change for all Americans, and it has been an especially moving year in the game of baseball.

It was a season of rivalries and record-breaking events. No fan can deny the excitement of watching Mark McGwire and Sammy Sosa working their way through Roger Maris' home run record and beyond, or the gladiatorial conquests of the San Diego Padres and New York Yankees as they took their leagues' pennants.

On Oct. 19, this baseball fever heated up even more for Larry J. Necaise Jr. as he stepped onto USS Peleliu's flight deck to celebrate the arrival of the Padres and Yankees for game three of the World Series.

Navy Petty Officer 1st Class Necaise, the 33-year-old son of Larry and Camilla Necaise of Pass Christian, was one of 1,000

Peleliu sailors who joined San Diego's mayor, Susan Golding, and 2,000 other guests to welcome the World Series rivals to "America's Finest City."

The harbor-front event, which was sponsored by the San Diego Padres, boasted world class cuisine, a live band, and a fireworks display which lit the sky over San Diego and the Peleliu, which was docked at the downtown cruise ship terminal.

"Participating in events like this shows we are not just here for war, we are here to support the people of the United States," said Necaise, a 1983 graduate of Hancock High School.

The Peleliu, an 820-foot long amphibious assault ship designed to transport Marines and their equipment, seemed a perfect backdrop where sailors, local officials and Padres players and front office personnel mingled and danced.

It also gave Peleliu sailors a chance to show off their ship, and let their civilian guests see why the Peleliu is considered one of the most versatile instruments defending the heart of democracy today.

In Necaise, a gunner's mate who operates and maintains weapons systems aboard Peleliu, personal pride in the ship was evident as he welcomed the Padres and their guests aboard with excitement.

"I'm proud to have them here. It shows the ship is ready for anything, anytime," said Necaise, a 14-year Navy veteran.

The night was one that Necaise and everyone else could hardly forget. And as the revelers departed under the dimming glow of embers from fireworks drifting into the bay below, the thought of America and its favorite pastime left an echo of what it means to live in the land of the free.

World War II military memorabilia exhibit opens Veterans Day at Depot

The City of Bay St. Louis will host a World War II military memorabilia exhibit at the historic Depot beginning Nov. 11 with an opening reception for veterans of all wars and all services from 7-9 p.m.

Thursday and Friday the exhibit will be open for student review by appointment. Each Bay St. Louis school has been invited to have their sixth, eighth and 10th grade students attend. The eight available slots will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis.

Saturday, Nov. 14, the exhibit will be open to the public 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Beginning at 7 p.m. a USO-style dance will be hosted by the city on the grounds of the Depot, featuring a Red Cross canteen serving coffee, hot chocolate and donuts.

The exhibit features the member collections of the Gulf South Military Collectible Club. This group of military history enthusiasts formed their organization in 1996.

It engages in community activities that promote the preservation of military history by sharing their collections for exhibits, supporting local museums and developing programs that share the knowledge and history of the era where members have dedicated their lives in collecting and thus preserving its spot in history.

Highlights of the exhibit include live models and mannequins that showcase the uniforms of all the services, complete with field gear for many of the uniforms. Weapons, handbooks, field rations, and other supply memorabilia will be presented.

Camping equipment, jeep, deactivated weapons, photographs, significant front page news articles, postcards and advertising memorabilia will also be displayed.

A complete collection of military medals awarded during this time of conflict will also be presented for viewing.

All events are free to the public, but donations will be accepted to help defray transportation and security expenses for the exhibit.

"We are so excited to have this opportunity to showcase World War II during the countdown to our Tercentennial. The Depot is the natural setting for this event, having seen thousands of servicemen pass or stop on their way to and from their training posts.

"I hope that everyone in Bay St. Louis will make the effort to see the exhibit and bring their families. We have to continue to learn about the heroic contributions of our military services that has allowed Bay St. Louis to prosper and grow as A Place Apart," said Mayor Eddie Favre.

The exhibit is presented by the Department of Administration, Division of Cultural Affairs, Robert J. Parker, director.

Parkinson Support Group

The public is invited to all meetings of the Parkinson Support Group, which are held the second Sunday at 2 p.m. at Garden Park Community Hospital in Gulfport. For information, call 863-2929 or 467-0307.

Tuition assistance offered

A conservative estimate of college costs for a full-time student runs from $10,000-$30,000; high cost colleges can run from $40,000-$100,000. Most parents and students think that scholarships are only for the students with excellent grades, low-income families, or the athletically inclined.

A small example of the numerous scholarships available to students include: Handicapped Student Scholarships, Members of a Church Scholarships, Scholarships for "C" Students, Veteran Children's Scholarships, Scholarships for Minorities and much more.

Though the majority of scholarships are from the federal government and are merit and/or need-based, billions of dollars are available to students from private sector scholarships. Much of private sector financial aid goes unused because the parents and students do not know how or where to apply.

There are organizations that have done research locating scholarship sources. The U.S. Commission for Scholastic Assistance — College Bound is such an organization and supplies the public with over 700 different private scholarship sources. The scholarship list includes the scholarship names, addresses, application deadlines, summaries about the scholarships and the amount the scholarship will pay.

For information on obtaining these scholarship lists, send a self-addressed, stamped, business-size #10 envelope to: The U.S. Commission for Scholastic Assistance, P.O. Box 668, O'Fallon, IL 62269.

Fire

- Fires killed 4,050 civilians
- 95 firefighters died on duty
- 552,000 structure fires caused 7 billion dollars in direct property damage; 74% (406,500) of the 552,000 structure fires occurred in residences.

Gary Keith, Vice President of NFPA, covered Fire Prevention 2000 Challenger and Solutions. Meri K. Appy, Vice President of the Public Education Division covered the New Risk Watch, a comprehensive injury prevention curriculum for children in pre-school through grade eight.

On Saturday night, the forum ended with a dinner banquet at the U.S.S. Constitution Museum in Boston. Chief Garcia stated there is a true sense of unity among fire services throughout the United States and Canada. Everyone seems to be facing the same problems, big and small alike.

Garcia advised that it was a very rewarding experience, and he enjoyed the opportunity to talk with other fire chiefs from different states, Canada and Australia.

It was indeed an honor to receive this invitation from NFPA, Garcia advised, and excellent round-table discussion that hopefully will be helpful in Mississippi.

Bay-Waveland Garden Club participates in housing authority grant

BY B. R. HAWKINS

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club recently participated in a planting project at Bay Shadows Apartments funded by a grant to the Bay St. Louis Housing Authority, in conjunction with the Gulf Regional Planning Commission. The part is a portion of funding for drug elimination projects.

The garden club works with housing authority staff to plant trees and flower beds at the apartment complex. Janet Dudding, president of the garden club, said the club could not have completed the project without the help of housing authority staff, particularly that of Troy Haynes and John Erskine. "We appreciate their help very much," Dudding said.

One of the unexpected benefits of the project, Dudding said, was that the residents became involved to the point of naming the trees and volunteering to take turns in watering and caring for the plantings.

Dead teacher reaches across the world to teach

BY BETSY GAGNET

Janet Richards of Diamondhead is one of 70 volunteers reaching out across the world to teach others about education.

Richards recently returned from a three-week trip to Estonia where she participated in a program designed to help former Soviet countries develop teaching expertise.

The program is called "Reading and Writing for Critical Thinking" and is sponsored by the Open Society Institute.

"The aim of the program is to promote teaching practices that help students learn actively and think critically," explained Richards. "In former Soviet Communist countries, the curriculum came from the state government and when the Soviets pulled out, the (countries) were left with nothing."

Richards and her partner worked with two groups of educators, Estonian teachers and Russian teachers. Russian is spoken in the Russian schools and Estonian is spoken in the Estonian schools. Richards had a different interpreter for each group.

In addition to teaching workshops, Richards traveled throughout the country observing teachers and offering suggestions. The program operates under the "train the trainer" concept.

"Those teachers going through the program in Estonia will then be able to train other teachers," said Richards.

She was impressed at how eager the teachers in the program were to learn and at "how serious the Ministry of Education was to give teachers the time off from teaching to learn."

With a history of domination by other countries, Estonia is just emerging and now operates under the Estonian Free Government, said Richards. Their history is still present in everyday life however.

"They have tiny kitchens in their apartments built by the Russians because the Communists thought that would get people away from cooking toward a communal kitchen," she said. "They are just starting their own army. There is very little private transportation so people walk a lot and take buses."

Located on the Baltic Sea, the climate is very cold and even in late September and early October, Richards said people were wearing winter coats with hats and gloves.

A literacy professor at University of Mississippi, Richards will make three more trips to Estonia as part of the program. With accommodations a little on the primitive side, she said it's definitely a program for the adventurous.

"It's a wonderful experience. Not many people speak English, but I can speak a little German and that helps," she said. "You can always make yourself understood."

Despite the language barrier, some things are universal. While in Estonia, Richards celebrated a birthday and was given not one, but three parties by the educators she was there to instruct.

"I'll never forget that birthday," she said.

Helping hands

The St. Stanislaus volunteer work crew, consisting of Brother Ronald Hingle, Fred Cherota, Rod Olds, Mrs. Cherota, Matthew Salathe, Skylar Beech, Andrew Shebay, Padrick Dennis, Claudio Iombo, Matt Touart and Denny Li present a monetary donation to Sister Bernadette, principal of St. Peter the Apostle School in Pascagoula.

SSC students help school

While all of us were affected by Hurricane Georges, most of the members of the St. Stanislaus family did not suffer the brunt of the storm. The school sustained minor damage at the athletic fields, a broken awning behind the cafeteria and several broken tree limbs. Other Catholic schools along the Coast were not so fortunate.

St. Peter the Apostle School in Pascagoula was completely destroyed. Sister Bernadette, principal, said a tornado came through ahead of the storm and loosened the roof. The hurricane winds and rain finished the job.

The convent where Sister Bernadette and two of her sisters rode out the storm, was untouched.

Every book in the bookroom and library was soaked by the heavy rains, computer key-boards and monitors were full of water, and all the tile floors in the building came unglued and buckled as a result of the flood which followed.

The faculty, staff and student body of St. Stanislaus took up a collection to help St. Peter's School get back on its feet.

The collection from the immediate SSC family with several other donations was used immediately to purchase textbooks and workbooks destroyed by Georges.

In addition to the monetary gift, 12 SSC representatives — including students, faculty and administrators — spent a Saturday going through the storm-damaged school.

The St. Stanislaus work crew consisted of Brother Ronald Hingle, Fred Cherota, Rod Olds, Charlene Cherota, Matthew Salathe, Skylar Beech, Andrew Shebay, Padrick Dennis, Claudio Iombo, Matt Touart and Denny Li.

They salvaged what little could be kept, transported it across the street to the temporary home of St. Peter's School and cleared the building and playground of debris.

"While our prayers and efforts to further assist Sister Bernadette are ongoing, I was very proud of the initial response and generosity of everyone at SSC," said Brother Ronald Hingle, principal of SSC. "I guess that's what 'putting our faith into action' is all about."

Oct. 24 the Mollere Drive residents had an Oktoberfest Block Party.

Music was provided 6-9 p.m., and there was dancing in the streets to '40-'50-'60's-type music.

Family groups provided food for the first Oktoberfest celebration. Many were costumed in either Oktoberfest or Halloween-type costumes.

Non-perishable food items were collected for the St. Vincent de Paul Society to be distributed to the needy. Election time is close, and many special friends were invited.

A Christmas Card Lane celebration is planned for early December. The 'opening night celebration' date will be announced in the next few weeks.

The "WORD" for the Week

Dennis J. Prutow, Box 303, Sterling, KS 67579

What are the marks of true blessing? Some maintain they are health, wealth and prosperity. They push the envelope further. Those are the marks of true faithfulness to God. Those in poverty, with chronic illness, or failing to prosper in their business endeavors must not have the favor of God. This is self-evident they say.

The life of Job contradicts the health, wealth and prosperity syndrome. Great calamity came to Job. Yet he was a godly man. God said of Job, "There is no one like him on the earth, a blameless and upright man, fearing God and turning away from evil" (Job 1:8, 2:3). At the same time, Job asks the proper question, "Why do the wicked still live, continue on, also become very powerful?" (Job 21:7). If the wicked prosper, their affluence cannot be the self-evident blessing of God.

Job sees calamity as a test of his faith, an examination of his character. "He knows the way I take, when He has tried me, I shall come forth as gold" (Job 23:10). Job trusts God. "Though He slay me, I will hope in Him" (Job 13:15).

True blessing

Job boldly declares this faith, "As for me, I know that my Redeemer lives, and at the last He will take His stand on the earth" (Job 19:25).

Faithfulness under pressure is the mark of God's blessing.

Pope John Paul II sends best wishes to Biloxi

As Biloxi prepares to begin its year-long celebration of the 300th anniversary of the landing of the city's discoverer, Pierre LeMoyné Sieur d'Iberville, others around the world (some in very high places) are taking notice.

The city recently received a letter bearing good wishes from no less than Pope John Paul II. The letter, mailed from the Vatican, was sent to Rev. Joseph L. Howze, Bishop of Biloxi, relating the pontiff's sentiments.

The Pope was responding to a letter from Biloxi Mayor A. J. Holloway, who informed John Paul of the city's nearing Tricentennial.

The Pope's message, in part, reads: "He prays that this significant anniversary will inspire in all of the citizens a renewed commitment to the pursuit of the common good and the spread of a spirit of genuine social solidarity based on the respect for the innate dignity of every member of the human family, especially the poor and defenseless.

"As the city looks to the future and its challenges, he encourages religious believers and all people of good will to cooperate in the urgent work of shaping society and civic institutions in accordance with the values of justice, integrity and truth."

The pontiff further invoked, "upon the civil authorities and all the citizens of Biloxi and abundance of divine blessings."

Pastor's Class offered at Main Street Methodist

A Pastor's Class on the history of the United Methodist Church and Main Street will be presented by Rev. Van Carpenter for six weeks at 10 a.m. each Sunday beginning Nov. 1 and concluding Dec. 6.

The study is held in the Multi-purpose Building, 162 Main Street in Bay St. Louis.

Topics to be discussed will include the history of both the United Methodist Church and Main Street United Methodist Church; the worship practices of the church, such as funerals, weddings, Holy Communion, Sunday worship and baptism; the organization and finances of the local church and the United Methodist Church; nurture, outreach and missions of the local church and the church at large (i.e., missionaries, hospitals, colleges, special programs, and children's homes); the ordination, accountability and appointment making of the clergy within the church; and the membership of the church, such as baptism, confirmation, transfers, confession of faith and other denominations.

For information about the study, contact the church office at 467-4538.

Everything Is Going To Be All Right

During childhood, we learn that whenever we hurt ourselves, or when something bad happens, our parents can usually help and comfort us. A parent saying "you are going to be okay," or "it's all right," may be all that is needed to reassure a child in times of crisis.

However, when we become adults, we sometimes forget to go to our Heavenly Parent, God, for comfort and reassurance. If we could hear in our hearts that tiny voice of God saying, "I am with you; everything is going to be all right," perhaps many of our fears and anxieties could be allayed.

Guidance and support are beneficial to everyone's life, and as we mature and grow in our faith, we should trust in the Lord and know that He will never leave for forsake us.

God's Spirit joins himself to our spirits to declare that we are God's children

12B-THE SEA COAST ECHO—SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1998

Restoration of Ship Island facilities underway

An Incident Management Team, made up of employees from both the Southeast and Northeast regions of the National Park Service, has arrived in the Mississippi District of Gulf Islands National Seashore.

Under a delegation of authority from Superintendent Jerry Eubanks, the team is tasked with making NPS facilities on Ship and Horn islands ready for the 1999 season.

The team operates on the Incident Command System, designed for coordinated and integrated response to emergency situations. Headed by an incident commander responsible for overall management of incident activities, the team includes an operations section chief who directs the work; a planning section chief who helps establish objectives and prepares written action plans; a logistics section chief who provides support for all activities including transportation, lodging and means, and the ordering of all resources necessary to complete the objectives; a finance section chief who prepares contracts and provides cost and property accountability for incident expenses; and an information officer who provides information on the incident to news media and other appropriate agencies and organizations.

Members of the Incident Management Team met last Sunday on Ship Island with park maintenance and natural resources staff members Warren Martz, Gary Hopkins and Riley Hoggard, along with concessionaire general manager Steve Skrimetta.

A number of critical issues were resolved regarding work crew logistics and debris cleanup priorities.

The team made assessments of equipment needs and set locations for dune-building deposition sites. Heavy equipment routes of travel were established through environmentally sensitive areas. Preparations were also made toward establishing a work crew encampment on the island.

Crews of skilled tradesmen and laborers, along with equipment and supplies are being ordered to the islands. The first arrived Monday. The initial priority is to make the structures on Ship Island habitable, in the short term for work crews who will cleanup the debris and prepare the site for boardwalk construction and in the long term for park operations.

Structures will be leveled up, dried out and repaired as necessary. Some organic debris will be spread into wind rows that will eventually help create a new dune line, while recently installed boardwalk stringers and synthetic planking will be salvaged and reused.

Incident Management Team members include Bob Panko, incident commander, and Richard Devenney, finance section chief, both from Everglades National Park in Florida; Jack Piepenbring, operations chief, and Kent Cave, information officer, both from Great Smoky Mountains National Park in Tennessee; Doug Wallner, planning chief, from the NPS Northeast Regional Office in Philadelphia; and Chester Mikus, logistics chief from Virginia's Shenandoah National Park.

Most team members have experience with hurricane recovery operations in south Florida following Hurricane Andrew, the Virgin Islands after Hurricane Marilyn, and in the aftermath of numerous storms which have struck East Coast barrier islands.

The park has set a goal of having all facilities open to the public by the 1999 Easter weekend, the traditional beginning of the season. The replacement of piers and boardwalks plus any remaining debris cleanup will be under contract administered by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Contract announcement is forthcoming.

The team is operating under the following objectives:

1. Systematically stabilize, repair and make habitable and operational park facilities and grounds on the island of the Mississippi district.

2. Provide for the protection of natural and cultural resources on the barrier islands of the Mississippi district damaged by the storm and minimize impact of the incident on these resources.

3. Conduct all operations in a safe manner following appropriate Department and Service guidelines.

4. Maintain a system of cost accountability and assist the park in tracking of overall costs and property issues related to the overall hurricane incident.

5. Assist the park in the planning and implementation of long-term restoration projects that are based on cooperative agreements or contracted services.

Chimneyville Crafts Festival set for December 4-6

The 22nd annual Chimneyville Crafts Festival is Dec. 4-6 at the Mississippi Trade Mart in Jackson.

More than 150 artists and craftsmen from across the United States participate in this event held each year to showcase the talents of exhibiting members of the Craftsmen's Guild of Mississippi, Inc. It provides a unique opportunity for the public to view and purchase fine handmade crafts and meet the artists who make them.

The festival begins Friday, Dec. 4 with the Preview Party 7-10 p.m., hosted by the Craftsmen's Guild of Mississippi, Inc.

While enjoying cocktails and hors d'oeuvres, guests casually browse, view and purchase any of the craft items displayed.

Participating artisans are available to answer questions about their particular crafts and explain the processes that go into making the items. Preview Party tickets are $25 per person and may be purchased in advance or at the door.

Festival hours on Saturday, Dec. 5, are 10 a.m.-6 p.m. and on Sunday, Dec. 6, noon-5 p.m. General admission tickets are $5 per person each day.

Types of handmade crafts include jewelry, furniture, toys, pottery, glass, metal, leather, baskets and numerous other functional and decorative items. Crafts demonstrations, children's workshops and other family activities will be available during the weekend hours.

The festival is generously supported by the Mississippi Arts Commission and the ArtsAlliance of Jackson & Hinds County. Proceeds help fund the Guild's crafts demonstrations, classes and exhibitions, and the suitcase museum, a traveling exhibit of crafts for use in elementary school classrooms and libraries across the state.

It provides seed money for the Annual Pioneer and Indian Festival and the Children's Crafts Sampler.

The Craftsmen's Guild of Mississippi, Inc. was founded in 1973 as a nonprofit organization of craftsmen and others interested in preserving and promoting the folk, traditional and contemporary crafts of Mississippi and the southern region and to encourage the highest standards of excellence in these crafts.

Membership in the guild totals more than 250 individuals and studios from 12 states. A 10-member jury selects new members twice a year, in March and September.

To qualify, an artisan must design his or her work and demonstrate professional skills that meet the high standards of the guild.

For more information on the Chimneyville Crafts Festival, member artisans and other programs sponsored by the Craftsmen's Guild of Mississippi, call (601) 981-0019.
